

MELANCHOLIA

A MIDCENTURY BENCH IN OAK AND RATTAN BY BØRGE MOGENSEN

This elegant, multi-functional bench "Model number 272" by Børge Mogensen is crafted with skillful attention to detail, by pairing a woven rattan (or cane) surface with a solid oak frame that highlights the natural beauty and durability of the materials. Its timeless design allows it to serve equally well as a bench or as a side table, adding a touch of Danish mid-century charm to any interior. Produced by Fredericia Stolefabrik in Denmark in 1955, it's a rare collector's item from Mogensen, celebrated for his contributions to functional, minimalist furniture design
